

Economic Crisis

What can we do?

Film Screening: The Take

In 2001, the entire economy of Argentina collapsed. As the United States faces economic crisis, what can we learn from Argentina?

The Take is a peak into what Argentine workers have been doing to survive under their own economic collapse. The film tells the story of workers in Buenos Aires, Argentina who reclaim control of a closed Forja auto plant where they once worked and turn it into a worker cooperative.

When:

Wednesday,
December 2nd
7:00pm

Where:

The Charleston
333 N. Callow Ave.
Bremerton, WA

For more information, call 360-850-2313